WELCOME

The vibe of Nova Scotia's South Shore is undeniably contagious. You will be kissed by the sun, immersed in the ocean, tickled by the wind, nourished by our seafood, and energized by the smiles of each passerby. Home to the "Lobster Capital of Canada" and rated one of the top coastal destinations by National Geographic Traveler, you will discover a coastline rich in sandy beaches, working fishing ports, World Heritage Sites, and historic lighthouses.

Whether you are arriving on the ferry in Yarmouth, or exploring via Halifax, you will have the opportunity to explore the scenic Lighthouse Route to discover the best of Nova Scotia. We are pleased to offer you this comprehensive visitor guide to help you make the most of your time along our shore. Welcome to our region. Explore, sip, savour, and stay a while. Our region boasts four distinct seasons, Spring, Summer, Fall and Lobster, offering unique experiences and outdoor adventures. Our weather is moderate. Daily temperatures fluctuate according to proximity to the ocean. We hope you will experience your best adventures and make lasting memories on Nova Scotia's South Shore. Our tourism website, novascotia.com/southshore, is packed with attractions, festivals and events, outdoor adventures, getaways, and places to eat and drink.

We'd love to hear from you!

Join the chatter by checking out our social media pages. Stay up-to-date and browse through videos and photos and be sure to use #novascotiasouthshore and #lobstercrawl to share your experiences.

PEGGY'S COVE

The most-photographed in Canada, this iconic white-and-red lighthouse lashed by sea spray proudly marks the entrance to the sheltered cove that's filled with gently bobbing fishing boats. It's a Nova Scotian image for every visitor's photo album. It's postcard-perfect, even shrouded in mist.

BLUENOSE II

Nova Scotia's world-famous sailing ambassador Bluenose II, a replica of the original schooner depicted on the Canadian dime, has drawn thousands of visitors to the Lunenburg waterfront. You can experience the iconic ship yourself with a two-hour cruise when she's in port.

OAK ISLAND

The Oak Island mystery refers to stories of buried treasure and unexplained objects. Explore Oak Island, where one of the world's most famous mysteries awaits. Tours must be booked online ahead of time, as access to the island is otherwise prohibited due to the ongoing treasure hunt.

Istock/Adwo

TOP 7 ICONIC LAND

ROSS FARM MUSEUM

Step back in time at Ross Farm Museum and explore 60 acres of rolling farmland to discover what life was like on a Nova Scotia family farm over 100 years ago. An authentic living heritage site, much of the farm remains the same as it was in the 1800s. The museum is open year-round so plan to climb aboard for a sleigh ride!

BLACK LOYALIST HERITAGE CENTRE

Enjoy the view of Birchtown Bay when you climb up the Shaw Turret, which commemorates all Black Loyalist communities. Visit the Lindsay Gallery for a multimedia presentation of the Black Loyalist Journey from Africa to the United States, then Nova Scotia, and back to Africa. Explore the virtual copy of Carlton's Book of Negroes and search for your ancestors. Before you leave, create a virtual quilt square about your experience.

CRESCENT BEACHES

The South Shore offers tons of beaches and two unique ones, both named Crescent Beach! The one located in LaHave is a 2 km long crescent shaped beach and the only drivable beach in Nova Scotia. The other located in Lockeport is a white sand beach causeway that connects the peninsula of Lockeport to mainland Nova Scotia. This iconic landscape was featured on the Canadian 1954 series $50 bill.

DMARKS

KEJIMKUJIK NATIONAL PARK AND NATIONAL HISTORIC SITE

The heart of our region, and the centre of the UNESCO Southwest Nova Biosphere Reserve, Kejimikujik National Park and National Historic Site abounds with untamed natural beauty, wildlife, and rich Mi'kmaw history. Please note, for 2020 camping is limited due to renovations, but the Park remains open. Just outside Liverpool you'll also discover Kejimikujik National Park Seaside with sand dunes and secluded beaches.

South Shore Through the Seasons

Explore Nova Scotia's South Shore year-round and experience a unique way of life that's been shaped by the sea and the spirit of our people. Venture into our quaint small towns and villages, where historic streetscapes, charming architecture, and lively waterfronts pay tribute to our past, celebrate our present and delight in our future.

Mahone Bay Scarecrow Festival

Fall in love with the South Shore as the hot, sunny days of summer give way to invigorating autumn air and horizons decorated with crimson, gold and amber leaves as far as the eye can see. This time of year, we are known for our festivals, outdoor adventures and the delicious rewards of another harvest season. Grab your camera for a vibrant seaside display of handmade scarecrows in Mahone Bay or whirligigs and weathervanes in Shelburne. Our year-round moderate temperatures make our beaches a popular fall hiking destination. Provincial parks contain some highly accessible beach hikes. Pack a picnic and head to a lovely family farm to pick high-bush blueberries or Thanksgiving cranberries. The U-pick at Terra Beata Cranberry Farm opens on October 3. Fill your pail with the bright crimson berries and stop by the Bog Store for some sweet dried cranberry snacks or a refreshing cran-raspberry juice.

WINTER OR AS WE CALL IT LOBSTER SEASON

Lunenburg

This time of year, we tie a big red bow around a boatload of events as we sip, savour and shell'ebrate!

Christmas Crawl will put a twinkle in your eye as you explore our shops, relax in our restaurants and linger with a local libation. Partake in our traditional festivals such as the illumination of Barrington's (Lobster Capital of Canada) Lobster Pot Christmas Tree, Christmas on the LaHave, Father Christmas, Yule Tide Christmas, Christmas Tree Festival, Craft & Artisan sales—and lobster feasts, yes, it's lobster season. Full Christmas Crawl Festival details at christmascrawl.ca.

Home for the holidays or visiting and looking for the perfect Christmas tree? You'll find it here in Lunenburg County, the "Balsam Fir Christmas Tree Capital of the World." See christmastreeproducers.com.

Nova Scotia Lobster Crawl invites guests to sink their claws into this tasty crustacean on its home turf with a savory month-long celebration of lobster and lobster-themed experiences. Will Lucy the Lobster declare 6 more weeks of winter February 2nd, who wins the Lobster Roll Off Competition? Crawl aboard and sample variations of the traditional Lobster Roll and lobster infused dishes. Order up a 'Lobster Ale'! Join us for the Fresh Off the Wharf Festival, the ENTIRE month of February. Full Lobster Crawl Festival details at lobstercrawl.ca.

The coast is a paradise for birders in late February and March, when tens of thousands of brant geese gather to feed along the shores of Hawk Beach, Clark's Harbour, and Cape Sable Island. A truly inspiring spectacle is the Brant Fly Away, when the birds take flight at sunset and depart for their roosts at sea. Visit nsbirdsociety.ca for more about birding.

Nova Scotia Lobster Crawl a Fresh Off the Wharf SHELLEBRATION February 2021!

ONE OF THE MOST DELICIOUS ANNUAL EVENTS IN NOVA SCOTIA.

Lucy Lobster

Move over Phil, Sam and Wiarion Willy, there's a crustacean sensation weather forecaster (prognosticator) in town for Feb 2nd Groundhog Day here on the South Shore in Barrington THE 'Lobster Capital of Canada'!

At 8am, Lucy the Lob'STAR crawls out of the ocean as the Nova Scotia Lobster Crawl gets underway—in search of her shadow...offering her prediction about how much winter is left in 2021.

GO LUCY!!! Join us in Barrington, at the gazebo off the causeway leading to Cape Sable Island. Arrive for 7:45AM (yes, AM!), it'll be worth it! Stick around for Lobster Day in Barrington—visit a Lobster Plant, check out the Lobster Sculptures, and yes, sorry Lucy...savour the sea at Capt. Kat's Lobster Shack!

Lobster Roll Off Competition

Held on the first Sunday of Nova Scotia Lobster Crawl and featuring South Shore Restaurants who are offering their unique twist on the Lobster Roll during Nova Scotia Lobster Crawl. The Roll Off sends Chefs to the wharf with hopes of being named THE "Best Lobster Roll 2021".

Lobster Chowder Chowdown Showdown

As part of the FOR THE LOVE LOBSTER presented by the Municipality of Chester local restaurants compete for the Golden Ladle Award. Band together to choose the winner!

Lobster Crawl Craft Beer Festival

Sellebrate the amazing craft beers of Nova Scotia at the Lobster Crawl Craft Beer Festival!

With the growth we continue to see in the industry and the superior product that is being produced, we are excited to see what the breweries will have in store for us. Our plans include having over 20 craft breweries/cidery's, high quality food with signature lobster dishes, games and music!

Nova Scotia Lobster Day

By Pro'claw'mation the Final Friday in February is know as Nova Scotia Lobster Day. Lobster Love is on a roll, and this gives us one more reason to band together and shellebrate.

Tail End Party

Taking place on the Final Friday in February this year's festivities are full of lobster love.

Gather your friends and spend February 26th on the Shore as we celebrate all things lobster.

Let Your Lobster Love Linger

With so much to sea and do you'll want to crawl in a spend a night or two or 28. There's no shortage of Lobster Loving Accommodations to choose from. Welcome aboard, we're glad you're here.

Crawl a'board and stay awhile!

LIGHTHOUSE ROUTE ROAD TRIP

Historic lighthouses, anchored on the South Shore's rugged coastline, have cautioned seafarers for centuries and offer a glimpse into our rich marine heritage. Travel the aptly named Lighthouse Route, from St. Margaret's Bay all the way southwest to Wood's Harbour, and you'll encounter more than 30 of these picturesque beacons, many of them restored from the original towers that are hundreds of years old. For a complete listing of all Nova Scotia lighthouses and historical details, visit nslps.com.

Lighthouses that may be accessed by foot or by car

Peggy's Cove Lighthouse (1868)

Peggy's Cove

This iconic image of Nova Scotia is among the most-photographed lighthouses in the world.

Fort Point Light Museum (1876)

LaHave River,
Lunenburg County

The formal garden is typical of the 17th-century flower and herb gardens favoured in French settlements such as this one. Also located here is Fort Sainte-Marie-de-Grace which was the capital of Acadia (1632-1636) and is now a National Historic Site.

Fort Point Lighthouse (1855)

Liverpool

This distinctive "hunchbacked" light is one of the oldest surviving lighthouses in Nova Scotia. Become an unofficial lighthouse keeper and climb the tower to toot the hand-cranked foghorn. Lane's at the Lighthouse offers a gift shop, coffee, freshly baked sweets, and ice cream. Call ahead (902-354-3456) to book your wooden-boxed picnic lighthouse lunch.

Seal Island Light Museum

Barrington

Climb the iron stairs as the keepers did. See the original clockwork mechanism and take in wonderful views from the only installed Fresnel lens in Nova Scotia.

Port Medway Lighthouse (1899)

Port Medway

Located at the end of the wharf in Port Medway, this is a scenic spot to picnic and enjoy the view over the fishing wharf and Medway Bay.

Medway Head Lighthouse (1851)

Port Medway

Located on Long Cove Road, this lighthouse has a functioning light, offers a spectacular ocean view, and is open to the public throughout the summer months. Free admission. Experience the history and culture display.

Sandy Point Lighthouse (1873)

Shelburne Harbour

At low tide the tapered wooden tower is accessible across a sand bar. There is a sandy beach, swimming, birding, and a community hall where snacks may be available. Many festivals and activities take place here in the summer, especially lobster dinners.

Baccaro Point Lighthouse (1850)

Port LaTour

Perched at the edge of the ocean overlooking Barrington Bay, this lighthouse is an important seabird-watching site and has an on-site picnic park.

Lighthouses enjoyed from a distance or by boat

Coffin Island Lighthouse (1914)

Liverpool Bay

View from spectacular Beach Meadows Beach.

Spectacle Island Lighthouse (1873)

Port Mouton Bay

Floating docks so you can enjoy the Island by foot.

Western Head Lighthouse (1962)

Liverpool

See the light from Shore Road.

Carter Island Lighthouse (1872)

Lockeport

Located on one of five small harbour islands and visible from Lockeport.

East Ironbound Island Lighthouse (1870)

East Ironbound

See the lighthouse from the New Harbour Road off Highway 329, Blandford.

Gull Rock Lighthouse (1853)

Lockeport

View by telescope from the Crescent Beach Centre.

PEGGY'S COVE

Peggy's Cove, the most photographed spot in Canada needs little description! Climb massive granite boulders to the iconic lighthouse and imagine 20,000 years ago when retreating glaciers moved those same boulders across this rugged landscape as if they were pebbles. A tiny harbour still shelters the fishing boats that have plied these rough seas for centuries. Reputedly named after the only survivor of a schooner that sank here in 1800, Peggy's Cove and its iconic lighthouse offer one of Canada's most extraordinary coastal seascapes. Explore the rocks with care, though, as the waves are dangerous. Experience the essence of Nova Scotia.

Peggy's Cove Checklist

- Visit the deGarthe Art Gallery
- Shop for a one-of-a kind souvenir made by local artisans
- Hike one of the area's scenic trails
- Espresso on the deck at Beales' Bailiwick
- Taste Dee Dee's Ice Cream
- Explore the Coastal Heritage Trail

It's a 10-minute walk through this active fishing village but we suggest taking the day to step back in time and leisurely shop, snack, sightsee and experience the tranquil atmosphere of Peggy's Cove. The best way to see Peggy's Cove is to walk through the village from one end to the other, to experience the contrast between quiet fishing village at sunset and the breaking waves on the rocks. The parking lot on the road into the village provides interpretive plaques. This starting point places you within walking distance of the deGarthe Fisherman's Monument and Gallery, the St. John's Anglican Church, the Cove area with fishing boats and wharves, and then the lighthouse and rocks.

Become a lobster chef in 12 minutes.

If you haven't eaten lobster in the world-famous Peggy's Cove, cooked the traditional way, then you haven't really eaten lobster. Nova Scotia lobster is world-famous. And for good reason. We have some of the most fertile lobster fishing grounds, not just in Canada, but in the world. But many people don't know how to cook live lobsters. At Peggy's Cove U-Cook Lobster, cooking and handling a live lobster is part of the fun of our unique process. We offer fresh locally-caught Atlantic lobster and explain the best cooking techniques for your meal that you then can enjoy or take-out. See peggyscovelobster.com.

Hidden Gem

Visit the William E. deGarthe Memorial Monument, a 30-metre rock face behind the renowned sculptor's home that depicts the lives and legends of 30 local fishermen, plus their wives and children, which he chiseled from the wave-washed granite.

Shore Club Lobster Suppers

St. Margaret's Bay to Lunenburg

For centuries, the lives of residents along the coast from St. Margaret's Bay to historic Old Town Lunenburg relied on the Atlantic seascape for their livelihood. These rich, windswept waters help us recall our shipbuilding heritage, while fishermen still nourish us with the finest seafood. These vocations shaped our culture as the waves sculpted a coastal landscape that's unmatched in rugged beauty. Explore our sandy beaches and sheltered coves. Sail or kayak among the 365 islands dotting the twin basins of St. Margaret's Bay and Mahone Bay, where seals bask in the sun. Visit our vibrant small towns and villages, where you'll find chic boutiques, country markets, and art galleries galore. Join in the many fun-filled festivals and events staged throughout the year. Treat yourself to some succulent seafood at one of our nationally-acclaimed restaurants, then take an after-dinner stroll through the preserved 18th-century streets of a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Recommended Scenic Drive

The Coastal Heritage Trail, starting in the picturesque community of Terence Bay and extending to the village of Blandford, offers visitors a scenic route from the Head of St. Margaret's Bay around the Aspotogan Peninsula. Following the bay's many inlets, the winding coastal road is a museum without walls. You'll pass villages and sites that highlight some of our most significant history and culture. Follow Route 333 and you will learn of shipwrecks, lighthouses, churches, old fishing villages, and their settlers. Hike or bike on a trail that once served as the main road across Nova Scotia. Walk or bike the rail bed once used by the Halifax South-Western Railway. See beaches and shore birds and towns full of that strong seaside spirit.

Bridgewater to Liverpool

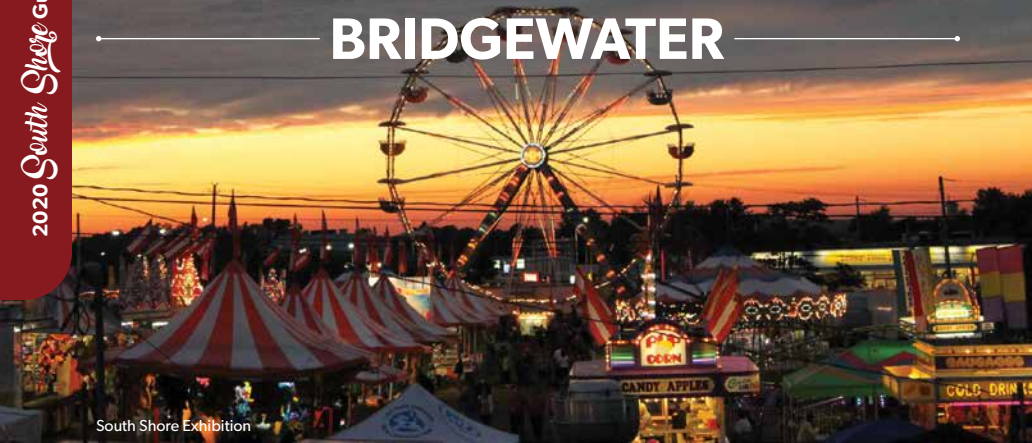

Following the Lighthouse Route from Lunenburg on Route 332, inland along the LaHave River to Bridgewater and south to Liverpool, you'll experience the very heart of the South Shore and the abiding spirit of our people.

Here in our vibrant communities, you can expect to find proud history, an industrious outlook, a promising future, and the warmest welcome you'll get anywhere. A landscape ranging from dramatic coastal cliffs and sea caves to verdant green fields along winding rivers, offers outdoor enthusiasts' myriad opportunities for adventure. Museums, galleries, and theatres provide a cultural counterpoint and a diverse array of experiences.

South Shore Exhibition

Bridgewater boasts a variety of visitor services, second in the province only to Halifax. From shopping to accommodations, restaurants, parks and museums, hospital facilities, a public library, sporting facilities, and more, we have everything you'll need right here in the heart of the LaHave River Valley. Annual events, including the South Shore Exhibition, Afterglow Art Festival, South Shore in Motion, Canada Day on the LaHave, and Christmas on the LaHave make it a hub for excitement all year round. For those with canine companions, don't miss the South Shore Vet Dog Zone, our dog park on Glen Allan Drive. And, if you have a love of boats, you'll want to visit the waterfront Bridgewater Marina on LaHave Street.

LAHAVE AND PETITE RIVIÈRE

Photo: Submitted

The beauty and charm of the Petite Rivière area makes it an inspiring spot for artists and crafters of all types, offering studios and shops for you to explore. Plan a visit to the beach. Crescent Beach is one of a kind; walk, run, or even drive across the beach. Don't forget to check the tide schedule. Finish off your perfect afternoon by journeying back to Petite Rivière Vineyard. Take a tour, browse the shop, and then relax on the stone patio with a glass of wine, soaking in the glorious view of the vineyard.

A Must Experience

Since 1832, LaHave has been connected to East LaHave, located on the opposite side of the LaHave river, via a cable ferry. In 1982, Brady E. Himmelman retired after 35 years of service, being the longest serving captain of LaHave ferries. In 2010, the LaHave Ferry II was replaced by a 14 car capacity ferry named in the honour of Brady E Himmelman. The Ferry is operated by The Province of Nova Scotia and costs $7 for a one-way ticket. The trip lasts about five minutes one way.

Queens Coast

Beautiful beaches, stalwart lighthouses, glimmering lakes and richly diverse Acadian forest. Add in fun festivals, world-class art and music, and a history and heritage as old as the hills, and you'll see why Queens Coast is a "must-stop" destination for visitors. This quintessential piece of Nova Scotia's South Shore might even convince you to stay a lot longer!

MILL VILLAGE AND PORT MEDWAY

At Exit 17A on Highway 103, you have a scintillating choice; up to Mill Village for lunch at the delightful Riverbank General Store and Café, nestled, well... on the banks of the Medway River, or down to Port Medway with its working wharf and lively community. The Port Grocer Café and Art Space is alive with music and amazing food, and Sea Port Gifts and Treasures offers an eclectic mix of gifts and quirky crafts.

Follow the Lighthouse Route west along scenic coastlines, stopping off at the superlative Beach Meadows Beach, through to scenic Liverpool on the Mersey River.

Kejimikujik National Park and National Historic Site

GREENFIELD AND CALEDONIA

Recommended Scenic Drive

Take the Kejimikujik Scenic Drive (Route 8) from Liverpool to Annapolis Royal in late September through early October, and you'll be rewarded with spectacular fall foliage. Stop mid-way through your journey and rent a canoe or hike and explore the beautiful Mersey River in Kejimikujik National Park and National Historic Site. The crimson maples, golden hemlocks, yellow aspens, and russet oaks, along with their reflections in lakes, rivers, and streams, will delight you.

No trip through the bustling hamlet of Greenfield is complete without picking up a coconut cream pie from Stew's Corner Convenience and Gas. They stock most everything you need for a week at the cabin, as Greenfield is the access point into the lake country of Molega and Ponhook—a maze of roads and paths allow walkers, runners, and cyclists to discover probably the best lakes in Nova Scotia. You can also pick up tasty food from the Kespuwitk Eats 'n' Treats and Gas Bar, or if you are lucky to be travelling through in late July, check out the Annual Planked Salmon Supper hosted by the Greenfield and District Volunteer Fire Department.

Caledonia has long been the gateway to the Tobeatic Wilderness Area, and now Kejimikujik National Park and National Historic Site, with a rich tradition of outdoor activity and adventure. For 2020, camping is limited at the Park whilst extensive renovations take place, but you can choose to camp at the new Gateway Campground, or choose a roof over your head at the Whitman Inn, Mersey River Chalets, or B&B Art of Germany. Stop in at the Hollow Log Café and ask about their Big Rig Challenge.

LIVERPOOL AND AREA

Past the majestic colonial houses of sea captains of old, sits historic Fort Point Lighthouse. Climb up and sound the hand-cranked foghorn. The rich history and culture are reflected in the area's festivals, museums and performing arts venues. Couple that with endless opportunities for hiking, biking, paddling, and swimming—or simply enjoy a perfect beach day—and see why we say: Seek Nature's Rewards!

There are many great places to stay and eat, like the Quarterdeck Beachside Villas and Grill, a great selection of rental cottages, or camping at Fisherman's Cove, plus amazing eateries including; Hunt's Point Market and Café, Seascape Seafood Restaurant, and Seaside Seafoods. Stop in to browse the extensive collection of local arts and crafts at Coastal Queens Place. You have all the components of a great vacation—right here on Queens Coast!

Kejimikujik National Park Seaside

Port Joli to Wood's Harbour

Stretching from Port Joli to Wood's Harbour, you'll find an unspoiled natural coastline and some of Canada's richest history. Step into the 1700s at the bustling port of Shelburne and see how fishermen, shipbuilders, and traders have done business for over 250 years. Explore the 18th-century site of the largest free black settlement in North America. Escape the hurried pace of modern life and get back to nature. Explore the edges of this wild, ragged seacoast on foot, by bicycle, or in a canoe or kayak. With white sand beaches stretching for miles and crystal-clear waters, it's a favourite hiatus for dozens of species of migrating birds that stop to rejuvenate on their long spring and fall flights. Breathe our salt air and find your rejuvenation too.

SHELburnE & AREA

Shelburne has a deep multicultural history. Originally known as Port Roseway, Shelburne was once occupied by Mi'kmaq, Acadians, Blacks, and American Loyalists. In 1783, during the American Revolution, 3,000 Black Loyalists escaped to freedom in Shelburne, making Shelburne one of the largest cities in North America. Shelburne found its calling in the fishing and shipbuilding industry, but racial tensions forced the Black Loyalists to move to nearby Birchtown, making this land the world's largest free African population outside of Africa, in the late 18th century. The Shelburne area provides unique experiences that are rich in culture and adventure while providing visitors with places to relax and unwind in a surrounding of historic treasures, wilderness, and beauty.

Sandy Point Lighthouse

The Sandy Point Lighthouse is one of Shelburne's most popular destinations and is known for its historical, architectural, and environmental significance. The site of the lighthouse is both picturesque and unique. Located on a sand bar at the entrance of Shelburne Harbour, the lighthouse offers photo opportunities at any time of day. At low tide, you can enjoy the sandy beach which allows you to walk out to the lighthouse for that perfect selfie.

Bring your buckets and collect sand dollars, relax on the sand bar and enjoy some treats from the canteen. The shoreline offers a picnic area for visitors to take in the iconic view, often including lots of commercial & recreational marine traffic, which reflects its association with the community and the shipping history of Shelburne.

TRAILS

South Shore hikes include seaside trails with Atlantic Ocean views, trails through old growth forest and even follow the path once taken by steam engines. For detailed trail descriptions and maps, visit trails.gov.ns.ca or novascotia.com/see-do/trails. For snowmobile trails, visit snowmobilersns.com.

Aspotogan Trail (13km)

This inland section of the Rum Runners Trail often follows along water. Enjoy the hike along a river, a brook, a lake and a pond. Joins East River to Hubbards.

Back Harbour Trail (4 km)

This 4-km point-to-point walking trail begins behind the old Train Station in downtown Lunenburg. Flat and wide, the trail offers views of the harbour, rest stations, and interpretive sites.

Barrington Bay Trail (2.3 km)

Barrington Bay is one of the most scenic trails throughout the municipality. The trail borders Barrington Bay, with beautiful views of the Atlantic Ocean all along the trail.

Castle Rock Trail (3.2 km from parking area)

Hike, bike or ride your ATV to the heights of Castle Rock, looking over East River. The panoramic views across Mahone Bay are breathtaking. There are 3 different routes—easiest, moderate and most difficult—so hikers of all levels can enjoy the trail.

Centennial Trail (8 km)

Off King Street, Bridgewater. A gentle grade winds through a natural treed area to a footbridge that spans the LaHave River and overlooks salmon pools.

Chester Connection Trail (35 km)

Formerly part of the rail line along the South Shore, this scenic trail with many spectacular ocean views starts in East River and continues to Martin's River.

Graves Island Provincial Park Trail (4 km)

Exit 7 off Highway 103. Four short trails, well suited for family groups, take hikers around the island to see the drumlins, islands, and sailboats.

Hirtle's Beach and Gaff Point, Kingsburg (7 km round trip)

Off the beaten path, offers great scenery with a mixture of beach, estuary, forest and rugged coastline complete with unique geology and a variety of wildlife.

Jordan River Trail (2.6 km)

Haydens Road, Shelburne. Follow the trail east across the Jordan River through wind-swept pine to views of a large saltwater marsh and great bird-watching habitat.

Jubilee Park Trails (1.5 km)

Hedge Row, Mahone Bay. A recreation park with supervised outdoor swimming pool, tennis courts. Two trails, connected by smaller footpaths, pass through pine stands and open out onto the ball fields.

Kejimikujik National Park Seaside Harbour Rocks Trail (6.4 km return)

St. Catherine's River Road, Port Joli. Follow the shoreline to see harbour seals basking on the rocks just off the trail. Park Harbour Rocks Trail (6.4-km loop): Branching off the Harbour Rocks Trail, the Port Joli Head Trail crosses the extensive bog on boardwalks and follows the coastline.

Lion's Park Trail (3 km)

This park is ideally located on Route 12 and houses a picnic area and walking trail that connects to Ross Farm Museum. The path continues to course along Lake Lawson with rest stops along the way.

Lockeport Walking Trail (4 km)

A 4-kilometre (2.5-mile) walk; boardwalk, sand dunes, two old CNR trestle bridges, salt marsh; views of traditional Cape Island fishing boats, birds. Interpretive signage.

MARC Trail System (8 km)

Route 332 between Bridgewater and Lunenburg. This Municipal Activity and Recreation Complex is enjoyed year-round and is especially popular in winter with cross-country skiers. Eleven well-marked trails of varying difficulty.

Miller Point Peace Park (1 km)

Highway 3, Dayspring. A family picnic park just outside Bridgewater, with a level, smooth, and wide trail system winding through woods along the LaHave River.

Pine Grove Park Trail (1.6 km)

Highway 8, Milton. This 22-hectare park offers graveled walking trails through a mature pine stand featuring azaleas, rhododendrons, and magnolias. Parking and washrooms are available.

Port L'Hebert Pocket Wilderness Trail (3 km)

Highway 103, Port L'Hebert. About 30 kilometres from Liverpool, a large road sign indicates the start of the trail. Huge granite boulders, left behind by glaciers thousands of years ago, and covered with centuries-old lichens, are scattered throughout the forest.

Roseway River Trail (about 1 km)

Shelburne. The Roseway River Trail crosses the Roseway River near Falls Lane on two small train bridges. The trail follows the abandoned railway bed and ends at the road near the entrance to the Islands Provincial Park.

Ruby's Trail (5 km)

Located on the Murphy Family Tree Farm in New Ross. With beautiful vistas and wooded areas this new trail was created in memoriam to their late granddaughter Ruby and in gratitude to the community who offered such support and compassion during their time of loss.

Rum Runners Trail (119 km)

This multi-use trail connects Lunenburg and Halifax, passing through Mahone Bay, Chester, and Hubbards. Experience the coastal communities: savour local flavours at award-winning restaurants, explore attractions and seaside artisan shops. Multiple trailheads.

Sable River Foot Bridge Trail (3.5 km)

Highway 103, Shelburne. Parking is available at the Chef's Table restaurant. Follow Freeman's Mill Road over the swinging bridge, through a strip of vegetation separating two residential properties and past an old school house (now the fire department). Turn right and walk 500 metres down the road to the abandoned rail bed on the left. Follow this trail across the river and back to the Chef's Table.

Shelburne Rail Trail (4.8 km return)

63 King Street, Shelburne. Located across from the Shelburne Fire Hall, this pleasant community walking path follows the abandoned rail line from King Street to Roseway River.

Sherose Island Nature Trail (1 km)

This walking trail is located at the end of the Barrington Municipal Arena (12 Park Lane, Sherose Island) parking lot, and goes through wooded areas overlooking the Atlantic Ocean. Picnic area and playground nearby.

South Shore Annapolis Trail (122 km)

This year-round trail connects Goose Chase Road in New Germany to the town of Bridgetown in the Annapolis Valley and Caledonia in the region of Queens. Suitable for hikers, cyclists, equestrians, skiers, and ATV and snowmobile drivers. Parking is available at various access points along the trail.

Wood's Harbour Multi-Purpose Trail (about 1.5 km)

This trail follows what was once the rail line that ran through Wood's Harbour, and used for transporting passengers, mail, fish, boats, and more. The last run was in 1969. In 1984 the ties and rails were removed.

Woodlawn Multi Use Trail (34.6 km)

Interconnected shared multi use trail in eastern Shelburne County to the Queen's County line at Wilkins Lake to join the Queen's County trail system into Port Mouton and Summerville Beach Provincial Park.

ARRIVE ON THE TIDE

Wake up on the shores of the Atlantic Ocean with salty breezes & everything you could dream of at Oak Island Resort & Conference Centre. Unwind in one of our newly renovated guestrooms, cozy weathered chalets, or luxurious seaside villas. Enjoy fresh regional cuisine, live music, water sports, crackling bonfires, ocean panoramas & more. We also take sunset s'mores pretty seriously here.
